Small Dogs Retain Popularity With Society Women as Pets

Photos by American Press Association.

MANY residents of cities have recently been conducting a crusade against dogs on the ground that they are a menace to health because they are subject to hydrophobia. The claim is made that they are likely to develop rabies at any time and that it cannot be known that they are dangerous until too late to prevent the damage they do by bites. Women who own and love dogs scoff at this theory and insist that their pets are not only harmless, but are just the dearest little dears that ever lived. One of the pictures above shows Mrs. E. S. Allard of Philadelphia with her two Pomeranians, Prince Orson and Daisy Nigger, and the other picture shows Miss Kathryn Levy of Long Branch, N. J., and her Japanese spaniel Togo. The pictures were made at a recent dog show at Long Branch.

GOOD ROADS MEN WILL MEET IN CITY OF GREENSBORO

Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt Outlines Plans for Meeting of Southern Appalachian Association, at Roanoke, Va., October 4th and 5th.

Chapel Hill, Aug. 23.—Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, president of the Appalachian Good Roads Association, has issued the following letter in regard to the third annual convention of the association, which is to be held at Roanoke, Va., Oct. 4-5, 1911:

The Third Annual Convention of the Southern Appalachian Good Roads Association is to be held at Roanoke, Va., October 4 and 5, 1911. Since the organization of this association in 1909 the good roads cause in this section has received a wonderful impetus, as is evidenced by the increasing number of interstate highways now being successfully surveyed and constructed. It is expected that this will be the most interesting convention yet held by this association and large delegations are expected from the seven States, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, Georgia, and West Virginia, which are included in the membership of this association. The program for the convention is now being assembled, and, even this early, it looks as though it will be the most interesting yet presented. One feature of the program will consist of a Question Box which will be of special interest to the delegates, inasmuch as it will enable the individual delegates to ask questions relating to problems of road construction and maintenance met with in his own particular locality, and such questions will be answered and discussed by road experts. Among the questions which can thus be discussed and possibly some new light thrown on are those relating to location, grade, drainage, surfacing material, culverts, dust preventatives, tar and asphalt macadam, use of con-

SUSPECTED OF THE MURDER OF MRS. HILL

Special to Telegram.
Raleigh, Aug. 23.—Lonnie Chambers was brought from Durham to Raleigh today to answer the charge of stealing a mule in this county two years ago, a crime that he admits and for which he proposes to throw himself on the mercy of the court he says. It is said by the authorities that he is suspected of being guilty of robberies in Burlington and Greensboro. Also suspicions have pointed in his direction in the case of the brutal murder of Mrs. Joel Hill at Jamestown June 8.

ANTI-JEWISH RIOTS STIR SOUTH WALES

London, Aug. 23.—The government is now met with complications arising in the strike situation because of anti-Jewish riots which have broken out in Wales. Soldiers have been quartered in half a dozen towns in South Wales to protect residences and places of business of Jews. Shops belonging to Jews have been looted in several towns. The royal commission appointed to settle the strike held its first meeting this morning for the purpose of organizing and preparing to enter into an investigation of the differences between the working men and their employers.

S. W. Tate Dies At Elon College.
Special to Telegram.
Elon College, Aug. 23.—S. W. Tate, who was nearly ninety years old, died at his residence here yesterday afternoon after a lingering illness. The end was not unexpected by those who have stood by his bedside and ministered to his needs during the past several weeks. He leaves a wife and two children, Miss Mamie Tate of Elon College, and R. W. Tate of Norfolk, Va.

TO ADVERTISE GREENSBORO

Trade Excursion Train will be Operated to Towns of Surround- ing Country.

At last night's meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce it was decided to operate a trade excursion train from Greensboro to towns and villages in the surrounding country. The proposed train will consist of a couple of coaches and a baggage car, the latter to be filled with the advertising of the various merchants. The trip will consume two days, stops of 20 minutes to be made at each town passed. A committee composed of M. W. Thompson, R. D. Douglas and C. H. McKnight, was appointed to assist Secretary McLean in arranging the details.

Capt. J. W. Fry made a report on the work in connection with the proposed railroad to Roxboro and Henderson. He stated that everything was in readiness for the securing of subscriptions and it is believed that these will be secured at once. A large number of subscriptions have already been secured. The statistical report, showing the population, industries and probable revenues that the road would receive, is quite interesting as well as encouraging.

Drs. J. W. Long, J. T. J. Battle and M. W. Thompson, E. P. Wharton and W. C. Boren were appointed as a committee to assist in the effort to improve the roads between Greensboro and Lynchburg with a view of having the National Highway come through these cities instead of the present route.

Several other matters were considered and the directors were enthusiastic over the prospects for considerable activity during the fall.

MEAT ORDINANCE AMENDED BY THE COMMISSIONERS

Slight Change From Or- dinance Proposed by Farmers in the Amendment.

The Board of Commissioners yesterday afternoon forestalled any possibility of initiative proceedings in Greensboro until after the baseball season is over, at least, by according to the demands of the farmers and passing an amendment to the meat inspection ordinance. The amendment was practically what was asked by the farmers and the citizens of the city who had rallied to their cause, the only exception being that the head and spleen of the slaughtered animals were required to be brought attached to the carcass for inspection. The ordinance will, it is believed, be generally satisfactory to the farmers.

The vote on the amendment was two and one. Commissioner Brown voted against the amendment, while it was championed by Mayor Murphy and Commissioner Foushee. The amendment to the ordinance, which does not become effective within 20 days, is published in full elsewhere in today's paper. Until the ordinance is effective the former ordinance will remain force.

The action of the board in passing the amendment is regarded by many as a victory for the farmers. Some are of the opinion that it will have the effect of causing the farmers to protest against any ordinance that does not suit them which may be enacted in the future. Commissioner Brown when seen this morning stated that he did not see why the people of the country should not have the same right to come to the city and suggest to the city just how long the city schools should run as they had to come here and suggest the kind of inspection laws the city should have.

A close tab is going to be kept on every slaughtered animal brought to the city from the country in order to ascertain just how much fresh meat consumed in the city comes direct from the county.

NURSERYMEN OF THE SOUTH MEET

Interesting Session Be- ing Held Here--Lasts Through Friday Morning.

The thirteenth annual session of the Southern Nurserymen's Association convened this morning in the assembly rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. There are about forty nurserymen from the different states in the south in attendance and the sessions are proving to be both interesting and profitable.

The address of welcome was delivered this morning by Mayor Murphy in behalf of the city and President Hood in behalf of the Chamber of Commerce. The response was by J. C. Hale, of Winchester, Tenn.

After the formal opening the association got down to business and during the morning session there were three papers on "The Pecan and its Possibilities," by C. E. Barber, of MacClenny, Fla.; "Fraternity Among Nurserymen," by Chas. T. Smith, of Concord, Ga.; and "How May Southern Nurserymen Increase the Demand for Ornamental Stock of all Kinds?" by R. C. Berckmans, of Augusta, Ga.

An adjournment was then taken until dinner, the afternoon session beginning at 2 o'clock. This afternoon's session was devoted to an address by Prof. W. N. Hutt, of the State Department of Agriculture, who spoke on the diseases among trees, their prevention and cure and how to properly care for trees. The address was full of useful information and the speaker was given close attention.

Following Prof. Hutt's address the report of the secretary and treasurer was read, this being quite encouraging. Various committees were appointed and the afternoon session ended at 4 o'clock, to allow the delegates to attend the ball game.

This evening a meeting of the Southern Nurserymen's Protective Association will be held.

The session will continue through Friday morning.

Renovating Postoffice Building.

Workmen this morning began renovating the postoffice building. The walls will be painted and patched and the interior of the building otherwise improved. The exterior will be treated to a coat of paint. The cement walk laid between the building and the curb is being taken up and will be replaced with grass.

GEIDEL

Murder of Broker Jack- son on Verge of a Break Down.

New York, Aug. 23.—Paul Geidel, on trial for the murder of Broker William H. Jackson, in court today was on verge of a nervous breakdown as he heard the testimony given against him. Despite his highly nervous condition, counsel for the defense stated that Geidel will take the stand in his own behalf.

BRIDE AWAITS HARRY ATWOOD IN NEW YORK

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Something beside fame and fortune awaits Harry N. Atwood when he reaches New York at the end of his record-breaking flight of 1265 miles from St. Louis. The third and most desired reward will be the hand of Miss Alice Williams, his fiancée, who it is asserted, has promised to marry him if he accomplishes his task. It was this that made Atwood decide to make the final dash to New York today.

Miss Williams has been following Atwood on a train since he left St. Louis.

FARMERS MAY POOL TOBACCO

Unions of Virginia and North Carolina to De- cide on Matter Tomorrow.

Friday morning in the opera house will convene a special meeting of the Farmers' Union of North Carolina and Virginia, the purpose of the meeting being to decide upon pooling tobacco this fall until satisfactory prices can be secured from the manufacturers. A number of counties in this state have already instructed their delegates to vote for the pool. The Guilford union meets tomorrow at its annual picnic and it is probable that at this time delegates to the state meeting will be instructed.

While the tobacco crop in North Carolina is not as large as in former years, owing to the drought, it is thought that what weed is raised, or a larger portion of the crop, will be of better quality than it has been for a number of years. In view of the fact that the crop will be short it is believed that high prices will prevail this fall and winter. In fact the prices for primings already sold have been much higher than for several years. With the prices already prevailing it is believed by the farmers that if they will stick together they can command good prices for their weed. It is more than probable that this step will be decided upon.

Regarding the meeting the following has been issued by the committee on arrangements:

At the State Convention of the Farmers' Union of North Carolina a convention of the tobacco growers of Virginia and North Carolina was called to meet at Greensboro, N. C., on the 26th and 27th inst.

WEATHER BUREAU WILL INVESTIGATE FRUIT GROWING

North Carolina First State in Which the Investigations will be Made.

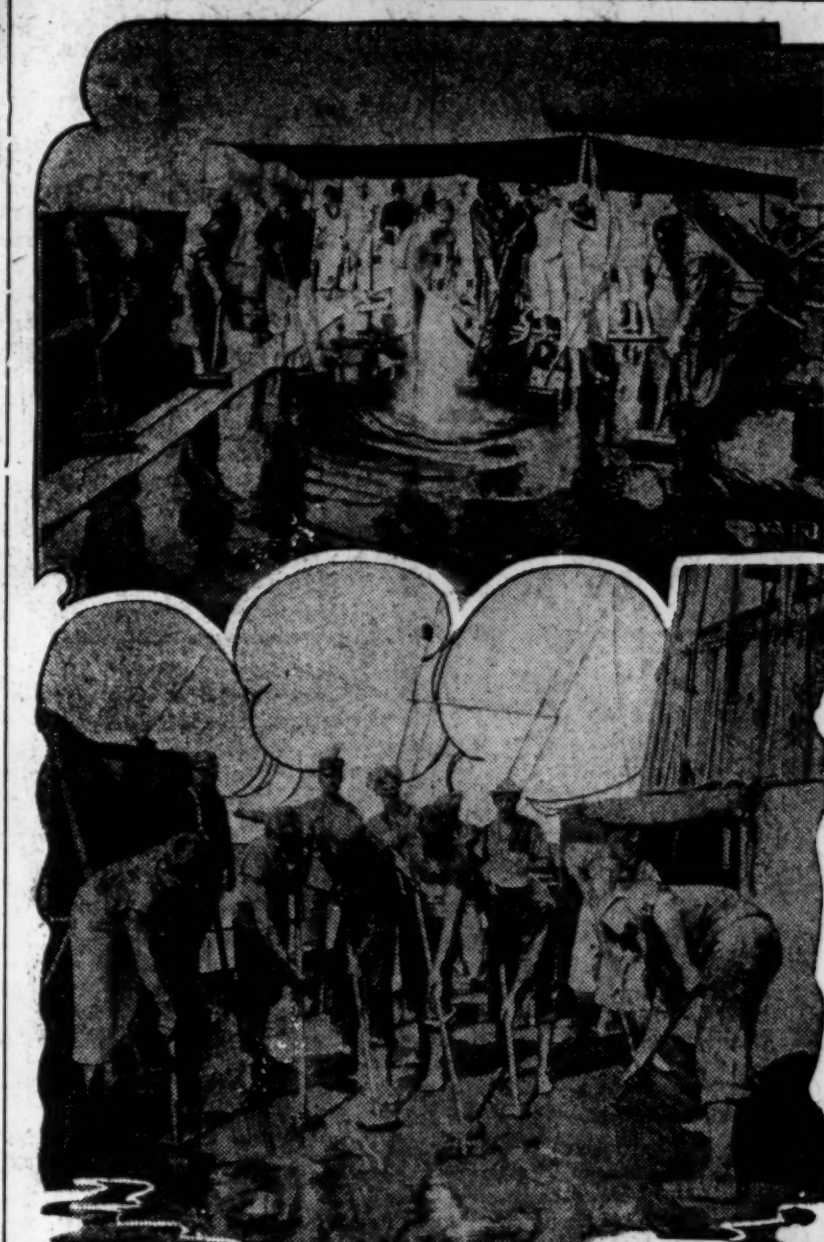

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, Aug. 23.—Speaking of the announcement from Washington that North Carolina is to have the first investigations by the United States weather bureau into thermal conditions for fruit growing, a departure secured through the efforts of State Horticulturalist W. M. Hutt and Congressman R. L. Doughton, Mr. Hutt said today that it is very fitting, owing to the leading position taken by North Carolina fruit last year at the great exhibit at the National Horticultural Congress, that she should be the first state selected by the national government for inaugurating these investigations, which, he says, will undoubtedly be of great advantage to the fruit growing interests of the whole country. He says that the results obtained in North Carolina through these observations will be a criterion for fruit growers throughout the whole of the United States and Canada.

To get under way these observations with thermometers and thermographs of delicate and very expensive character the weather bureau will provide equipment for installation at the state test farm at Blantyre; in the orchards of Chas. A. Webb, Asheville; the orchards of W. T. Lindsay, Tyrone; orchards of Bowling W. Hall, Waynesville; the orchards of Mrs. Aaron H. Cone, Blowing Rock and of J. B. Sparger, Mt. Airy, these elevations being from one to 4,000 feet. The instruments and other equipment will cost $3,000 and will be under the supervision of District Weather Observer L. A. Denison, of this state.

This work was undertaken in a preliminary way two years ago by W. N. Hutt, State Horticulturalist, but owing to the great expense of the delicate instruments required it was not possible to carry it forward on a satisfactory comprehensive scale.

Bluejackets on a Man-of-war Must All Be Good Housekeepers

Photos by American Press Association.

SAILORS on Uncle Sam's battleships do not find life one sweet dream. In addition to being ready to fight at any time, they must be good housekeepers and must keep their vessels clean and shipshape. The pictures above show scenes on the battleship Michigan, where the bluejackets were scrubbing and holystoning the deck in preparation for an official visit. Few men like this sort of work, but it is one of the things that must be done, and, as a rule, the boys do it cheerfully and skillfully. Water is plentiful, and with steam pumps to draw it from the ocean it is used liberally.

OVER 3,000 AUTOMOBILES IN THE STATE

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, Aug. 23.—The secretary of state will issue very soon now a complete list of the licensed automobiles in the state for the current year to date, including new licenses and renewals to June 30, 1912. In round numbers it will show 3,300 machines in the state with something like 300 licenses cancelled at the end of this license year ending June 30 for failure to renew. New licenses are issued almost every day and often times there are several in a single day so fast is the spread of the use in machines in North Carolina.

ROCHESTER FILLED WITH G. A. R. MEN

Special to Telegram.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 23.—G. A. R. Veterans, to the number of 25,000 are attending the annual encampment in this city. President Taft arrived at 9 o'clock this morning. He was greeted by a large crowd and was heartily cheered as he drove through the streets. The parade started promptly at 9:30 o'clock with thousands of veterans and others in line.

John McElroy, of Washington, and Harvey M. Trimble, of Illinois, are the candidates for commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic for the ensuing year.

President Taft will address the veterans this evening at 7 o'clock.

Funeral of John W. Gates.

New York, Aug. 23.—The funeral service of John W. Gates was held this morning in the ball room of the Plaza Hotel. A vast throng was present. Rev. Wallace McCollie conducted the service.

PUBLIC SENTIMENT CHANGES IN FAVOR OF HENRY BEATTIE

Predicted He will be Cleared of Murder Charge—Paul Beattie
May be Convicted of Crime but Effort to be Made to Prove Insane

Chesterfield Courthouse, Va., Aug. 23.—Both sides expected when the Beattie trial began this morning that the jury would be completed by night.

Public sentiment today has changed in favor of Henry Clay Beattie and it is predicted that he will be cleared of the charge of murdering his wife. The opinion is also expressed that his cousin, Paul Beattie, may be implicated in the affair and that he may be adjudged insane and sent to an asylum.

RALEIGH MAN WOUNDED BY ACCIDENTAL REVOLVER DISCHARGE

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, Aug. 23.—Last night in the store of the Levine Clothing Co. Manager Louis Cohen was cleaning out his desk when he moved an old revolver that fired accidentally, the bullet wounding one finger and clipping off a piece of his ear. The shock was so great that Mr. Cohen fainted away for a few moments. He didn't even know the revolver was loaded, he says.

Plans for State Building Ready Soon.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, Aug. 23.—The plans in detail for the new state administration building that is to be erected at a cost of $250,000 on the south side of Capital Square, are to be ready early in September and then as little time is to be lost as possible in the procurement of bids and awarding the contract for the erection of the building. It is expected that the clearing away of the old buildings and the excavations for the splendid fire-proof structure that is to go up will require the greater part of the winter months, the concrete construction to begin in full swing in the early spring.

This is good boosting weather. Get busy boosting Greensboro.

Aviators break records and break their bones nowadays with such frequency that they attract but little attention.

The end of vacation approaches, much to the displeasure of the small boy—and some of larger growth.

Congress has quit for a while, but the Beattie case is on trial—and it is going to be a trial to the public to be bothered with it.

The Weather Man, having given us the driest and hottest summer on record, appears now to be preparing to bring on an early winter.

O'Toole, the baseball pitcher who was sold for $22,500, is due to get almost as much advertising as has been given Ty Cobb.

The ultimate consumers are turning their thoughts to fall and winter styles and wondering if the prices of necessities are going to be any lower.

Upton Sinclair says he has no respect for the law. Perhaps he would give as a reason that the law is no respecter of mere persons but only of extraordinary personages.

The Columbia State calls attention to the prosperity of the western North Carolina hotel men. They probably have first hand information in regard to this matter down in South Carolina.

Going, Growing, Greater Greensboro needs the help of every citizen of the city in every progressive movement. Remember this and respond every time a call is issued for help to put through some progressive movement.

We have had several "cold days in August," but have been unable to discover that they are any better than the ordinary hot days of August. Perhaps that is because the hot days of August are pleasant in this climate.

Atlanta, Ga., will please make a note of the fact that Greensboro has a finger in the Beattie case, as Beulah Binford's mother once resided in this city. Atlanta will probably come forward with the claim that the trial judge once passed through that city en route to Florida.

The work of the extra session of Congress will not afford the consumers much relief. The reciprocity measure may help some a little later, if it is ratified by Canada, but the real tariff reduction bills were held up by the President. This will lead the voters to hold up the President next year and relieve him of his title.

The Greenville Piedmont says that better farming appears to go hand in hand with better roads. This is true.
The best farmers always manage finally to cast their lot in a section where the roads are good. This is perfectly natural, as the best farmers are progressive and desire to live in a progressive section of country and the country that has good roads is evidently progressive.

The Negro Farmers' Success.
Booker T. Washington, principal of Tuskegee Institute, gave some remarkable figures in an address which he delivered last week before the National Negro Business League at Little Rock. In these figures there is much to encourage those who are advising the colored man to work out his fortunes upon the farm.

Taking the Southern States as a whole Principal Washington said that he found that colored farmers last year produced four and a half million bales of cotton valued at about $319,000,000. Colored farmers in the South produced last year 150,000,000 bushels of corn valued at about $95,000,000.

The colored farmers of the South produced in 1910 four and a half million bushels of oats valued at more than $2, 000,000. They produced in the same year eight hundred and fifty thousand bushels of wheat valued at almost $4,000,000, and 98,000,000 pounds of tobacco valued at about $9,000,000.

It is calculated that the total value of the farm products of colored farmers of the South last year ran up to $500, 000,000. In addition to this Principal Washington estimates that those engaged in other general occupations made last year at least $200,000,000, making the total earnings of the black race in the South alone more than $700,000,000.

These figures ought to convince the colored people that the door of opportunity is open to them, and that if they are willing to work they may enter into prosperity. The colored farmers of the South are making much more than those of their race who have sought their fortunes in the North and who are nowhere near so independent and well off as those back home.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

The Nation and Good Roads.

There are many encouraging signs that in the not distant future our national government will meet its responsibility in the matter of road building. Several bills looking to this end have been introduced in the extra session of Congress, now about to adjourn, and, though they will probably bring no immediate results, they have opened the way and, in time, the purpose they represent will be realized.

Especially notable among such measures are those presented by Congressman Howard of Georgia; Senator Swanson of Virginia, and Congressman Linthicum of Maryland. The underlying object common to all such bills is to secure from the Federal government annual appropriations for a period of years to be spent in developing and linking together interstate highways.

Certainly there is no field of public enterprise in which the national government could interest itself more properly, or with richer results. It is equally as important for the government to foster good roads as to dredge rivers and improve harbors, for upon roadways the nation's commerce is vitally dependent.

As a matter of precedent and history the building of highways was one of this country's earliest undertakings in the field of progress. The Baltimore Sun recalls, in this connection, that in the first half of the nineteenth century a vast number of turnpikes were constructed by local enterprises and that thus all the eastern States were made accessible. That was really the beginning of interstate commerce. The fact that transportation by rail, and partly by water, has been carried to remarkable development in no sense lessens the need of good roads. Crops must still be hauled to the town market and the culway station, and the volume of travel is increasing every year.

The individual States have already awakened to their duty to the people in the construction of smooth and durable roads, but the work of the States must be supplemented and encouraged by the national government if this great cause attains its due measure of success. The fact that so many special bills, having this end in view, have been introduced in the present session of Congress is a wholesome indication of popular sentiment, for these measures but reflect the public's demand.

When Congress reassembles in regula-session next winter these bills, or one inclusive measure, should be urged vigorously for adoption and in the meantime the people of every state should continue to work in every way possible for such appropriations.—Atlanta Journal.

Mr. Taft's Second Attempt to Win the West.

After the passage of the Payne-Aldridge tariff act in 1909, Mr. Taft made a tour of 13,000 miles to explain to the people of thirty-three States his reasons for signing the bill and the fine features of the new law. In his famous speech at Winona, Minn., he pronounced it "the best tariff bill that the Republican party ever passed." That speech at Winona was made primarily to insure the re-election of that staunch Regular, James A. Tawney. His trip through Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa was expected to result in the discomfiture of the Insurgents and to the advantage of the Regulars, who had put through the Payne-Aldridge measure. His progress through Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon was hailed with delight by the Carters, Hey-burns and Ballingers, and his stop at Seattle was made the occasion of a banquet in which the "vindication" of Secretary of the Interior Ballinger was duly celebrated. The Regulars in California hailed his coming with delight. He took occasion in his speeches to pay a warm tribute to the ability and loyalty of Senator Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island, the real "father" of the present tariff.

At El Paso, amid the acclaim of two nations, Mr. Taft met his great and gold-friend, Porfirio Diaz, and the two Presidents pledged long life and success to each other.

Following the trail of Mr. Taft's tour of 1909 we find that James A. Tawney was defeated and the Insurgent occupies his seat in the House. Julius Caesar Burrows is no longer Senator from Michigan. The senatorial seat of Thomas H.

Carter, of Montana, is occupied by a Democrat. The Insurgents of Wisconsin have almost swept the Regulars off the map, while Senator La Follette is the most powerful leader in the Northwest.
The Insurgents swept California from end to end; their hold on Oregon has never been shaken. Diaz has been driven from Mexico, and the former dictator is an exile in a far country. Nelson W.
Aldrich has retired to private life, discredited, and the elaborate machine he built up in the Senate is broken. Control of the upper house has passed out of the hands of the clique of old-time politicians, and the Insurgents hold the balance of power.

On the eve of his departure in 1909 it was announced from the White House that Mr. Taft was determined to "put the question up to the people," to "tell them that if they want additional revislation of the tariff with a downward slant they must send to Washington men who represent that feeling." The people must have taken Mr. Taft at his word, for at the first election afterward, in November, 1910, they sent to Washington 228 Democrats and 26 Insurgent Republicans as members of the House; pledged to "additional revision of the tariff" with a decided "downward slant." They left in the House but 136 Republicans who regarded the Payne-Aldridge law as "the best tariff bill ever passed."

The President will soon make another swing around the circle. There is no attempt to conceal the political purpose of this trip. It is to give Mr. Taft the opportunity of meeting the Westerners face to face and explaining his reasons for vetoing the wool bill, the farmers' free list and the cotton bill, and to present the advantages of reciprocity with Canada. Mr. Taft is on the defensive, and he will accomplish a miracle if he can succeed in explaining his actions to the satisfaction of the Westerners who demanded and were promised revision of the tariff and "revision downward."

Will his second tour in 1911 be followed by results such as followed his tour in 1909?—Baltimore Sun.

THE STILETTO PARASOL.

Aeroplane, "Puff of Wind," and Other Paris Novelties.
A sensational novelty this year consists in the shape of the parasol itself.
Not only have we the dome-shaped parasol for little hats, which is already rather complicated, runs a Paris letter in 'The Ladies' Field,' but the sun of 1911 has changed to blossom forth a couple of strangely-fanciful shapes, which upset all our old habits in such matters.

The first is the aeroplane parasol, of an oblong form, and the second is the "puff of wind," which gives the idea of a parasol in distress which has been turned inside out by the wind. But those who wish to sport these novelties had better make haste before they disappear behind the horizon of fickle fashion.
There is also another sensational innovation this year, and this lies in the handle itself, which has quite a distinct destiny from the unique one of supporting the dome, or bell, or pagoda which shelters us from the sun.

These handles are so many magic boxes. The long ones contain a smelling bottle or a flagon of perfume, the round one a little glass or a powder box. Certain Spanish beauties have, it is said, ordered in the Rue de la Paix special handles to the parasols which will contain either a fan or a stiletto, according to requirements.

RAILROAD STOLE RICH TIMBER.

Trespass of 700 May Cost Denver & Rio
Grande Railroad $10,000,000.

Denver, Aug. 23.—By a decision today
by Federal Judge R. E. Lewis, the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad will have to pay a large sum to the government for timber trespasses committed years ago, when the road was built. The government estimates the value of the timber
at $10,000,000.

The government filed suit in 1902, as serting that the road, with its subsidiary road and lumber companies, took advantage of the grant of 1872, which permitted it to cut trees from adjacent public lands for the building of its road bed
in southwestern Colorado. It accused the road of going far into the interior and
even building railroads of a temporary nature in order to get to the richest timber lands.

Texas Girl Says She's Victim of Joke of Father Who Wanted Son.

Milwaukee, Aug. 23.—Will C. Smith,
of Beaumont, Tex., had his heart set on a boy, and when the stubborn stork delivered him a girl, he was so put out about it that he imposed the name John
W. on the helpless daughter.

This daughter, 20 years old, got rid of
one masculine suffix for another, in Milwaukee, by becoming the bride of Harry
J. Robb, also of Beaumont. She told the joke her parent played on her when officials at the Court House asked her if
she wasn't joking about her first name
being "John." The Health Department held up her license until she appeared to prove her identity.

ENGLISH ISLAND LOSES ITS KING

Special to Telegram.

London, Aug. 23.—Lundy Island, the granite rock off the coast of Devon has lost its "king." After spending practically all his life in his granite castle there amongst his people, who number 35, the venerable owner of the island, the Rev. H. G. Heaven has been compelled to return to the mainland owing to increasing years and illness. Mr.
Heaven who is 84, has a severe attack of bronchitis recently, and a telegram had to be sent to the mainland for a doctor.

Since his youth Mr. Heaven has been
"king" of Lundy. Being private property the island has no local governing body, but the little Arcadia has small need of laws, as nobody ever seems to think of crime there. Mr. Heaven has been king, parliament, and preserver of the peace, and his kindly rule endeared him to all his subjects.

He could have been as autocratic as the Czar, but he has merely been the friend of the people. At his own expense, he built a fine church on the top of the island, and conducted service regularly before his little congregation.
Apart from coast guards and lighthouse keepers Heaven's "subjects" are all engaged in agriculture.

DEATH HALTS THEIR WELCOME.

Parents' Joy Over Son Suddenly Turned to Sadness.

Winchester, Va., Aug. 23.—Several days ago George W. Brady and his family with much pleasure read a letter saying that his son, Charles, who had not been home since he enlisted in the United States army a number of years ago, was coming back, having been honorably discharged. Preparations were being made to give him an affectionate welcome when a telegram came announcing his death last night in the barracks at Fort Monroe. His remains will be taken to Summit Point, W. Va., for burial.

Thirty Years Together.

Thirty years of association—think of
it. How the merit of a good thing stands out in that time—or the worth-lessness of a bad one. So there's no guess work in this evidence of Thos.
Ariss, Concord, Mich., who writes: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for 30 years, and it's the best cough and cold cure I ever used." Once it finds entrance in a home you can't pry it out. Many families have used it for forty years.

RAILROAD STOLE RICH TIMBER.

Trespass of 700 May Cost Denver & Rio
Grande Railroad $10,000,000.

Denver, Aug. 23.—By a decision today
by Federal Judge R. E. Lewis, the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad will have to pay a large sum to the government for
timber trespasses committed years ago,
when the road was built. The government estimates the value of the timber
at $10,000,000.

The government filed suit in 1902, as serting that the road, with its subsidiary
road and lumber companies, took advantage of the grant of 1872, which permitted it to cut trees from adjacent public lands for the building of its road bed
in southwestern Colorado. It accused the
nature in order to get to the richest timber lands.

Texas Girl Says She's Victim of Joke of Father Who Wanted Son.

Milwaukee, Aug. 23.—Will C. Smith,
of Beaumont, Tex., had his heart set on
a boy, and when the stubborn stork delivered him a girl, he was so put out
about it that he imposed the name John
W. on the helpless daughter.

This daughter, 20 years old, got rid of
one masculine suffix for another, in Milwaukee, by becoming the bride of Harry
J. Robb, also of Beaumont. She told
the joke her parent played on her when
officials at the Court House asked her if
held up her license until she appeared to
prove her identity.

HOW CHINESE EMPEROR IS TO BE EDUCATED

Special to Telegram.

Pekin, Aug. 23.—Very interesting are the details of the scheme to be followed with regard to the education of Emperor Hsuan-Tung, now in his sixth year, who lives secluded from the world, even his mother not being allowed to pay occasional private visits.

The imperial edict of education orders the Bureau of Astronomy to select a favorable day during the seventh moon when the emperor may enter the imperial You-King Palace in order to pursue his studies.

"We furthermore order," the edict states, "that Lou Zeng-Chiang, Minister of the Empire, and Tchong-Pao-Sen, Governor of Chansi, bearing the honorable title of Vice Minister, shall both become tutors to the Emperor. They shall instruct him night and day with the greatest care, and shall teach him all science becoming royal personage, and also the history of the different countries of the world, in order that our Emperor may grow strong in knowledge.

"They shall also explain to him from time to time the new administrations and constitutional laws, as well as all modern sciences, but at the same time they shall not forget to instruct him in the doctrines of Confucius concerning the means to practice the virtues and to govern the Empire.

BOMBS IN THE GAS RANGE.

Thirsty Husband, Who Deceived Wifely, Says "Never Again."

Bloomfield, N. J., Aug. 23.—Edward D.
Shinneman will send a new $35 kitchen range to his home, in Central avenue, tomorrow, and also stand on a stack of Bibles, if necessary, and swear he'll never attempt to deceive his wife again. Shinneman bought a new range for $35 last week, and had it placed in his kitchen on Saturday. He came home that afternoon with a bundle under his arm, and, stealing in the rear door, secretly deposited his package in the new range.

Mrs. Shinneman wanted to see how the new range worked yesterday, and started a fire in it. A few minutes later there were several explosions, and the back of the new range was blown out.
Shinneman had secreted bottled beer in the range, but today he said "Never again."

Attack Like Tigers.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome.
Then see pimples, boils, eczema, salt-rheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fail. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T. Budahn, make rich, red blood, strengthen nerves and build up your health. Try them.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness,
and that is by constitutional remedies.
Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh

EXPORT TRADE IN PATENT MEDICINES IS LARGE

Manufacturers of United States Enjoy Great Trade in This Line With Foreign Countries—What Official Figures Show.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Nearly $7,000,000 worth of "patent medicines" were exported from the United States in the past year, and for the past decade the aggregate amounts to more than $50,000,000. These figures, as compiled from the official records of the bureau of statistics, department of commerce and labor, include only that class of exports designated as "medicines, patent and proprietary," of which the exports in 1911 were $6,783,000 to foreign countries and more than a quarter of a million dollars worth to the non-contiguous territories of the United States, and do not include the numerous articles exported for use in the preparation of medicines, such as ginseng, which amounts to more than $1,000,000 annually, roots, barks and herbs and other articles of this character.

$434,000; those to Brazil, $377,000; Venezuela, $140,000, and those to Chile and Colombia, each about $131,000.

Of the Asiatic countries, the British East Indies are the only communities where patent medicines of American manufacture seem to have gained a foothold. To India the exports of the fiscal year 1910 amounted to $159,000; to the Straits Settlements, over $10,000, and to other British East Indies, $5,000, while to the Chinese empire the total was but $30,000; to Japan, less than $30,000, and to such large communities as Persia, Asiatic Turkey and Siam the shipments are relatively small.

Nearly every section of Africa is represented in the list of countries to which American patent and proprietary medicines are exported the values ranging from $85,351, in the case of British South Africa, to $8,067 in that of Egypt, $4,468 to the Canary Islands, and $400 to Spanish Africa, the figures being in each case those of the fiscal year 1910.

Of the countries classed under "Oceania" Australia is the largest market for American medicines, being credited in 1910 with $302,000 worth, compared with $107,000 to the Philippines, $56,000 to New Zealand and less than $1,000 worth to French Oceania.

INNKEEPERS MUST NOT ALLOW DANCE MUSIC

Special to Telegram.

Vienna, Aug. 23.—Loud complaints attended the action of Dr. Jeglic, the Archbishop of Laibach, who has issued a pastoral letter in which he forbids all innkeepers to allow dance music to be played on their premises. In case his orders are not complied with the Archbishop lays down certain punishments.

In parishes where dance music is played no music will be allowed at the church services. The masses will be "silent." In places of the pilgrimage where the innkeepers permit dance music to be played in their guest rooms no service will be held.

A strong deputation of innkeepers will be sent to the government in order to protest against the Archbishop's pastoral letter.

ADVICE FOR WIVES BY "CARMEN SYLVA"

Special to Telegram.

Rome, Aug. 23.—The following precepts have been drawn up by the Rumanian Queen and authoress "Carmen Sylva," for the guidance of a young wife who would be happy in her home:

1. Never begin a discussion, but if an explanation is unavoidable, do not yield without having proved your point.

2. Never forget that you are the wife of a man and not of a superior being; it will make you understand his weaknesses.

3. Do not ask your husband for money too often.

4. If you discover that your husband has rather a big heart, remember also that he has an appetite. If you attend to the latter you will also win over the former.

5. From time to time, but not over frequently, allow your husband to have the last word, it will please him and will do you no harm.

6. Read the whole of your newspaper and not only the sensational news, and your husband will enjoy discussing the events of the day and politics with you.

7. Beware of hurting your husband's feelings, especially if he is sulking.

8. Pay him an occasional compliment by telling him that he is the nicest as most attentive of married men.

9. If your husband is clever and active be a good comrade to him; if he is somewhat heavy be his friend and his counselor.

FORGIVES 30-YEAR BEATING.

Wife Relents When Husband's Jail Diet Disagrees With Him.

Norristown, Pa., Aug. 23.—Because his wife relented upon hearing at every meal that the family had plenty, while their father was barely existing in prison on prison fare, Daniel Krouse, of Sumneytown, was released from Norristown jail.

Krouse had been committed to jail on complaint of his wife, who testified that he had beaten her at intervals through all of their 30 years of married life, and she had submitted until he refused to pay for a doctor's services to attend broken ribs which he had inflicted.

POPE CONDEMNS FEMININE FASHIONS

Special to Telegram.

Rome, Aug. 23.—Initiated by the Pope himself, an energetic campaign against the feminine fashion of tight gowns and exaggerated décolleté dresses has been started by the clergy. These outrageous garments, the Pope complains, worn by women in church during mass, distract the faithful from their prayers. Women are ordered by His Holiness not to follow the costly caprices of an indecent fashion, which often leads to neglect of family and household affairs. It is even thought that some wives and daughters risk honesty to satisfy their ambition.

Acting under the Pope's instructions the clergy are giving themselves up to the crusade, especially in large towns, where they go the length of publicly reproving the women among the congregation who fail to obey the Pope's orders.

This crusade against the fashions has resulted in many violent scenes between Catholics and anti-clericals.

MRS. LANMAN TO BECOME A NUN.

Wealthy Society Woman to Enter Convent or The Reparation.

New York, Aug. 23.—Social leadership, luxury and wealth are being abandoned by Mrs. Gertrude Haile Lanman, a wealthy widow of Norwich, Conn., and a recent convert to Catholicism, who today will be received into the Convent of the Sisters of the Reparation, in West Twenty-ninth street. The final orders will be bestowed on her two years hence. It is understood that she will then stay in a convent abroad.

Mrs. Lanman, who is the widow of William Camp Lanman and a daughter of Dr. A. B. Haile, has for many years been one of the social leaders of Connecticut. She has entertained on a sumptuous scale in her handsome residence in Norwich, which she recently sold. For years she enjoyed all the luxuries that wealth could afford, but renounces all these that she may devote her efforts to helping mankind.

Five years ago she became actively interested in church work. She became impressed with certain Catholic undertakings and aided them and was soon converted to that faith. She established the Haile Club for Girls, in which working girls are able to secure excellent quarters for very moderate terms.

ARMLESS ARTISTS.

Painters Who Have Earned Fame Though Armless.

Miss Sarah Biffen was a conspicuous example of the skill armless people some times acquire in spite of their affliction. She was miniature painter to Queen Victoria, and her work was widely known for its beauty and delicacy.

She was born without arms, but as a girl having a great wish to become an artist she worked earnestly for years until she could paint by holding the brush in her teeth. In 1821, according to the Rajo Yoga Messenger, the judges, without any knowledge of the means she was compelled to use, awarded her the gold medal of the Society of Arts, a prize sought by hundreds of others.

M. de Mentholon and Bertram Hiles were other artists who were deprived of the use of their arms. The former had only one foot, which he used to paint with.

Mr. Hiles lost both his arms in an accident, being run over by a street car when he was only 8 years old, and when he was just beginning to acquire skill in drawing. He spent two years in patient toil learning to draw by holding the pencil in his teeth, at the end of which time he won a first-class certificate from a local art school.

$5,000 FOR SUNSHADE PAID BY PARISIAN

Special to Telegram.

Paris, Aug. 23.—$5,000 is what a sunshade has cost an obliging husband. The husband was at the seaside with his wife. They started out for a walk. "Oh, I left my parasol in Paris!" exclaims the disconsolate wife. The husband is too devoted to her to let her suffer in this heat. He buys her a sunshade at once, the handsomest that he can find. It costs just $20. After a while he reflects that $20 for a sunshade is a good deal. To the Casino he goes, and tries to win $20. He was lucky enough to win $15 at the first go. But this did not satisfy him. He wanted to win back the $20. Instead, he lost $1,000; and then $3,000, and finally the loss totalled up just $5,000. After this he gave up in despair. The parasol has cost him enough.

STORMY MEETING OF FRENCH RAILWAY MEN

Special to Telegram.

Paris, Aug. 23.—A stormy debate on sabotage (wilful damage to property by trade unionists), was the chief feature of the twenty-second annual conference of the opening of the Railway Men's Union in Paris.

In view of the innumerable attempts at train-wrecking in France during the past few months, the schism reigning in the union on the question of sabotage is significant. The meeting was opened by a Rouen delegate who condemned the attempts to wreck the Havre boat train at Pont de l'Arche and re-proached the union's committee with openly encouraging wanton destruction.

The revolutionary delegates refused to proceed with the debate until newspaper representatives were ejected. An uproar followed and the debate had to be adjourned, but on its resumption in the afternoon the tumult was renewed and the chairman was called upon to resign.

When an employer publishes a help wanted ad he knows that only progressive people will see and answer it. When a property owner prints a "real estate for sale" ad he knows that not many people will read it except those who are able and inclined to buy real estate.

When a landlord advertises a house or apartment for rent he knows that, as a rule, only the "business like" people read and answer such ads, and that he is not apt to secure an undesirable tenant in that way. "That no fresh meat offered for sale within the city shall be approved or passed by the said Inspector or Deputy Inspector without his having first examined and inspected the animal of which said meat is a part, before the same was slaughtered and the carcass, heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, head, spleen, and viscera of said animal at the time of its slaughter;

"Provided, That this section shall not apply to packing house products, which have been inspected and approved in accordance with the regulations of the Bureau of animal industry of the United States department of agriculture; and, provided further, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent said inspector or deputy inspector from approving and passing fresh meats if sound and wholesome, where found in the possession of any farmer who raised the animal of which said meat is a part (Provided said farmer is not a licensed meat dealer or butcher in the City of Greensboro) if such farmer shall have attached to said meat the following internal organs of said animal, to-wit: heart, liver, kidneys, spleen, lungs, and the head and tongue accompanying the butchered animal; and, provided further, that said inspector or deputy inspector shall not be required to attend any places other than the slaughter houses hereinafter provided for, and the city market square for the purpose of holding said ante-mortem and post-mortem examinations of animals, as herein provided.

Section 2. That section Fifteen (15) of said ordinance be amended by adding at the end thereof the following: "And it shall be unlawful for any person to wilfully and designedly attempt to pass over the said inspector or deputy inspector the meat of any animal which was known to such person to have been sick or diseased at the time of killing or within three months prior thereto."

Bride-to-be Pleased When She learned What She Had Escaped.

New York, Aug. 23.—Left alone at the altar last night, Miss Mary Casella, 19 years old, was the happiest girl today that ever waited at a church. "I would not marry his now if he was made out of gold," she exclaimed joyously. "He fooled me, but I am cured."

William Steifer, 22, who has known Miss Casella for ten years, was to marry her in All Saints church. The church was filled with guests and the priest was ready, but the bridegroom came not. Steifer's nerve had failed him, though he had gone so far in his deception as to ostensibly embrace the Roman Catholic faith. Miss Casella at first became hysterical in the church, but her recovery was rapid when she learned from Steifer's mother "what she had escaped," and found that Ananias was a mere amateur compared with Steifer. Although out of work he told her he had a good customs house job, showed her a bank book with $2,000 balance and painted glowing visions of the future.

DEMOCRATS PLAN NEW ORGANIZATION

Washington, Aug. 23.—Democratic senators and representatives headed by Senators Owen and Chamberlain met at the capitol today to perfect the organization of the Democratic Federation of Precinct Clubs. The federation plans to organize precinct clubs in every county in every state in the union and will work for the nomination of a progressive Democrat for President and for the adoption of a progressive platform on which the Democratic candidates will go before the people in the next Presidential campaign. It is believed the new organization will favor Woodrow Wilson for the Democratic nomination for President.

DARN THOSE BLUEJACKETS

The Jackies Will Have the Implements to Do it With, Too.

New York, Aug. 23.—Before the battleship Kansas leaves New York again, each of the one thousand men in its crew will have added to his possessions a complete assortment of needles, thread, darning yarn, buttons and other articles.

These wardrobe necessities are contained in comfort bags made by the members of the Kansas Branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. They were completed and sent here for delivery a year ago, but the Kansas remained too short a time in any port for the comfort bags to catch up. The women out in Kansas began to get anxious and the secretary of the navy finally took a hand in the matter. Accordingly when the Kansas was at Provincetown ten days ago, the commander was ordered by the department to detach the Kansas and send her to New York for a cargo of comfort bags.

The man who weds a homely heiress may consider her face his fortune.

SHE 'HEALS' THE ILL BY SWINGING THEIR ARMS.

When Arraigned in Court Woman Produces $500 Bill as Cash Bail.

New York, Aug. 23.—Efforts of the New York County Medical Society to rid the city of illegal medical practice brought two accused persons before the West Side court today, Adele Marie Rique, "counselor and speaker of the Advanced New Thought cult," produced a $500 bill as cash bail for a later appearance.

A witness testified she had sought Miss Rique for a remedy for "pains in the back," and that part of the cure prescribed was a repetition of the formula: "God and myself, myself and God, God and myself," three times and then swing the arms around in a circle. A course in this and similar treatment was offered at $25 a month.

Heinrich Dmeringer, who said he could cure typhoid fever by manipulation of the spinal vertebrae, was held in $500 bail.

CARE OF CUT GLASS

HOW LUSTER OF BEAUTIFUL ARTICLES CAN BE PRESERVED.

Require More Attention and Care Than Silverware—Make Wash Water Tepid, Add Ammonia and Use Good White Soap.

It is seldom that the girl who sells the cut glass in the big department stores can tell you precisely what to do in order to preserve these beautiful and expensive articles, but one young lady, who owns several costly pieces and who is overly enthusiastic concerning them, says that with the proper care they are a joy forever and a delight to behold.

As a warning she says that it requires considerable more care and attention than does silverware, as cut glass will not stand any rough handling while being polished. This brittle article is actually the most fragile in the world of the housewife; it seems to await its chance to chatter, and, therefore, if the following rules are adhered to, breakage will be reduced to the smallest percentage.

Keep it in a china closet that has a rail or support that will avert its slipping.

Make sure that the shelf is strong to hold the weight if the pieces are large.

Never rinse under running water.

Prepare water for washing in a wooden pan or dish tub, and fold a towel on the bottom so that the pieces can rest on its cushiony layers.

Make the water tepid and add ammonia; use a good white soap, a camel's hair brush (sold for this purpose) and a lintless cloth.

Rinse with water of the same temperature and dry with a soft towel, polishing afterwards with tissue paper that comes for this purpose, or you can use a new clean chambray.

Do not put grease of any kind in these pieces, not even butter, as grease makes them cloudy and you can never polish them as brightly after so using.

Brushing should always be done with the softest brushes procurable; stiff brushes scratch unmercifully. But a brush must be used to clean the crevices so it cannot be dispensed with.

Never use tacks or buckshot to clean the inside of bottles, jugs and pitchers, but the ground shell of an egg, salt and lemon or a little white vinegar.

A piece of raw potato, soaked in a carafe or any of the deeper pieces will help to make brightening a light task and cleaning still easier.

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

Do not use soap on window panes. Either alcohol or ammonia will give a fine polish.

Remove stains or discolorations from tinware by dipping a damp cloth in common baking soda and rubbing briskly.

To remove white spots from varnished furniture moisten a soft cloth with alcohol and wipe the spots, being careful not to rub too hard, or the varnish will come off.

To prevent cakes bursting on top do not allow them to bake too fast. They should not begin to brown or crust until fully raised. A pan of cold water set on the grate above will keep them from browning too rapidly.

Varnished Floor.

An expert painter and interior decorator says that when wishing to freshen up varnished woodwork or floors to take a piece of new cheesecloth about one yard square, dip it in the varnish and squeeze out until you can handle easily. Then go over the woodwork the same as if using a cloth to wipe off. Of course the woodwork or floors should be perfectly clean. It does not take a third of the time it does to use a brush and the finished work looks equally well. It does not, of course, put on as heavy a coating of varnish as when using a brush, but being so much easier to do one can afford to do it oftener.

Russian Salad.

Simmer a can of tomatoes, one bay leaf, 12 cloves, blade of mace, slice of onion, six sprigs of parsley, for ten minutes, then strain. Add to hot liquor three-fourths of a box of gelatin dissolved in a little water, two tablespoonfuls of tarragon, vinegar, one teaspoonful salt, one-fourth teaspoonful paprika. Fill a border mold three-fourths full of cold cooked chicken and celery cut fine; then pour in the jelly; set on ice until firm, fill center with blanched lettuce, circle outside with chilled cucumbers.

Grape Juice.

Here is a beverage you may like. Take a long glass and put in some shaved ice and the juice of one lime. The fruit itself may also be left in if desired. Now add a wineglass of grape juice and fill up the glass with sparkling water.

Brownies.

SERVING LEFT OVERS

Beef Saute is Appetizing Offering for Hot Day—Baked Meat Cake—Meat Pie—Tomato Hot Pie—Beef Roll.

Beef Saute—Cut up cold roast of any kind of small pieces, as much as is needed for a stew. Put butter in a pan and brown a large onion cut up fine; then add a tablespoon of cornmeal; keep stirring and turning and add water to cover; also add one or two carrots, cut small; cook about two hours, then add a cup of fresh milk. Care must be taken to stir it often, as the cornmeal makes it thick; also a nice, rich gravy.

Baked Meat Cake—Crop one cup of cold meat and a little ham, one cup of bread crumbs, one beaten egg, salt and pepper to taste; add little dabs of butter. Moisten with one cup of gravy and water, or soup stock. Bake one hour.

Meat Pie—Cut up cold meat and brown it with butter and onion; add water, potatoes cut small and whatever vegetables you happen to have. Put the stew in a deep dish and cover with a deep layer of seasoned mashed potatoes. Spread a little soft butter over the potatoes and bake half an hour.

Macaroni Pie—Boil one pound of macaroni in salted water about 20 minutes, drain it, and put a layer of macaroni in a deep buttered pan; then add a layer of minced cold meat, seasoning, chopped onion and some tomato juice mixed with some gravy. Add the remaining macaroni, pour over this a cup of milk, some grated cheese and bread crumbs. Bake half an hour and serve hot.

Tomato Hot Pie—Put in a pan one can of tomatoes, one pound of meat cut small and one cup of bread crumbs, cook on top of stove 15 minutes. Then turn into a deep dish and bake half an hour. Send to table in dish it is baked in. To be eaten with potatoes.

Beef Roll—Roll out biscuit dough thin, cover with hamburger steak mixed with salt, pepper and chopped onion; roll like a jelly cake and bake an hour and a half. Serve with brown gravy.

Brown Gravy—Melt a tablespoon of butter, add two tablespoons of flour, keep stirring till a golden brown, add a cup of hot water poured in slowly; add salt and pepper and let cook till smooth. This gravy can be used for most any kind of meat. Very nice for steak and chops.

BOTTLE COOLER

In ordinary bottle coolers no provision is made for covering the upper part of the bottle with ice, and as a consequence the liquid first drawn out of the bottle is not as cool as it should be. A German inventor has conceived the idea of placing the ice over the top of the bottle, and as the cooler liquid falls owing to its greater weight, a circulation is set up which will cool the entire contents of the bottle. The cooler consists of a double-walled cylinder, the inner wall being arranged to fit onto the bottle. The ice is placed between the two walls of the cylinder. A rubber band on the inner wall presses against the bottle neck, so as to hold the bottle in the cooler when the latter is lifted by means of the handle—Scientific American.

An Italian Summer Drink.
Most refreshing in hot weather is the Italian drink granita, a half frozen mixture which will pour, but is not quite liquid. Any summer beverage made from fruit juice or any kind of punch may be turned into a granita by the process of freezing only until a snowy consistency is reached. The frosted sides of the freezer toward the middle of the liquid should be scraped several times during the freezing process. Claret granita is made by adding one bottle of claret to a pint of orangeade, and sherry granita by adding a bottle of sherry to one quart of rich lemonade.

Tomatoes and Spaghetti.
Put fat drippings in frying pan, cut three onions and put in drippings. Let them simmer until onions have become brown. Then drain off onions. Stew one can of tomatoes and one small package of spaghetti separately. Then put drippings in the stewed tomatoes, also two tablespoonfuls of flour, pouring over whole the spaghetti. The color should be lighter than the tomato shade. You will find this delicious. The flavor of onions runs all through. Beef drippings are the best to use.

Toasting Fork.

A new toasting fork is made of aluminum with a long enough handle to warrant the cook's not becoming burned by getting too close to the fire. This is the lightest sort of kitchen ware, and easily kept clean, needing no scouring, but simply a washing in hot water.

IF THERE WERE NO PARTICULAR MEN THERE'D BE NO TAILORS—WOULD THERE?

Consider it. DEMAND creates supply—in the Art Crafts and Professions.

There are tailors because some people insist on having made for themselves clothes. What sort of people are they who thus assure the calling of the good tailor, and make him an important man in his community? Careless dressers, do you suppose—or CAREFUL ones?

And as for YOU—do you belong to the class of people who insist upon good tailoring, or to the class of people who would make good tailoring a lost art?

INFANT DEATH RATE INCREASES IN LONDON

Special to Telegram.
London, Aug. 23.—A dread, mysterious "something" just now is killing London's babies by the score.

Last week 158 babies died in London, compared with fifty-six the previous week—a treble death rate.

The heat and the dust seem to be the main contributory causes of this great infant mortality.

Recently at an inquest at St. Luke's Dr. Wynn Wescott, the coroner, in speaking of the increasing number of deaths of infants from diarrhoea and sickness, said that they were all more or less a mystery.

"They could not be due," he said, "to bad food or heat exhaustion. Apparently the disease is due to something mysterious in the air, to something which is carried by flies."

Holton's Assailant Caught.

Winston, Aug. 23.—Bud Hege, the young negro who is alleged to have assaulted John Holton, the young son of District Attorney Holton, in Salem several weeks ago and later made his escape, while his victim lay seriously ill with a fractured skull in the Twin-City hospital, was last night arrested by Police James of Salem and is now safely housed in the Salem prison awaiting a hearing. The arrest was made in the negro cafe in Winston on Fourth street.

WHAT'S MEANING OF ATLANTA EGG

Such Events in the Past Have Proven Prophetic.

Atlanta, Aug. 23.—The old folks about Atlanta are beginning to speculate on what serious portent may justly be taken from the egg laid in Hapeville last week, with the likeness of Woodrow Wilson engraved in bluish stripes into the texture of the egg's shell.

Such queer things have happened before in the history of the world. About fifty years ago in Brittany a young sailor was convicted and sentenced to death—though protesting his innocence—for the murder of his sweetheart. On the day before he was to be beheaded the sailor went to his own back yard to get a fresh laid egg for the poor youth's last breakfast. Lo and behold, on the pure white shell of the egg, was the image of the Blessed Virgin with her hands outstretched as if in benediction. The sailor hurried with it to the priest, the priest to the civil authorities. It was regarded as an omen, a miracle. The hanging was stopped, and a week afterward the real murderer was found.

In the ancient Roman chronicles there is still more pertinent piece of egg-lore. It is recorded that when Julius Caesar was yet consul, nursing imperial dreams stifled in his breast, a hen at Rome laid an egg on which appeared his likeness and this was taken as a sign of the gods that Caesar was to rule.

If anything of such nature can be deduced from the picture of Woodrow Wilson, the answer is plain, for on the other side of the same egg traced in the same queer blue lines, is a map of the United States.

Postal Savings Bank Opens in Winston September 23rd.

Winston, Aug. 23.—Postmaster C. A. Reynolds received a letter yesterday from Postmaster General Hitchcock announcing the designation of the Winston-Salem postoffice as one of the postal savings banks and stating that the order would go into effect September 23. In the interval a special inspector will come here and teach the local authorities how to operate the new department.

This means that beginning with September 23 money may be deposited at the postoffice, with the United States government as security for its safe keeping. And the money so deposited will draw 2 per cent interest.

A man who needs the money has no time to meddle in other people's affairs.

New Fashions For Women Shown in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Aug. 23.—There are no rats at the "Made In" St. Louis show, which opened today at the Coliseum, and will continue throughout the week. There are women in trousers, silk ones, but there are no women with rats except possibly among the visitors. The ban was put on rats at the Coliseum last night at the rehearsal in the fashion salon of the 12 models who have been named the "perfect thirty-sixes."

It was the fashion mentor direct from Paris who banished the rats. The fashion mentor told the models, to be in style next winter and spring, they would have to look like Venus de Milo. Venus didn't wear corsets, and the fashion mentor told the models it is impossible to look as if you didn't have corsets if you wore rats. Moreover, he said, corsets would be tabooed this fall and winter.

The models displayed shows there is to be a revolution in women's dress styles for the next season. Curves and mincing steps—that goes with the hobbie skirt are to disappear, and in their places is to come the coattail natural figure. Trousers are to replace the petticoat.

SOUTH CAROLINA MAN GETS FEDERAL APPOINTMENT. Gaffney, S. C., Aug. 23.—James B. Bell of Gaffney, editor of the Cherokee News, was yesterday selected by the joint committee on printing to become the editor of the Congressional Directory at a handsome salary. He succeeds James S. Henry.

This position is one of the best to be held at the capital and requires a large degree of executive ability. Capt. Bell will take charge of the work about October 1, at which time he will go to Washington and begin the preparation of the directory, which must be out by December 1.

HOW TO FIND THE CHECK.

There has been hidden in a very conspicuous place in GREENSBORO a check for $5.00. This check when found and brought to the Telegram Office, will be endorsed and honored at the Bank for $5.00

WHERE IS THE CHECK?

Only one person in the city knows where it is, but by a careful study of the ads appearing on this page, you can find it. In several ads there has been inserted one or more extra letters. These letters when picked out and correctly arranged will form a sentence telling where to find the check.

The Office will not answer any inquiries, neither will they take any answers. You must find the check and bring it in.

If correct answer from out of town is received before the check is found, check will be awarded to party so answering. Just a little hard thinking and the $5.00 is yours.

WALTERS LED PATRIOTS TO CLOSE VICTORY

Hard Fought Battle End- ed 2 to 1 in Favor of Doyle's Men--Play Again Today.

By a score of 2 to 1 Greensboro won the first of two games with the Winston team on the home grounds. The second will be played at Cone Park this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and another Patriot victory is anticipated.

Nearly two thousand people saw the game yesterday afternoon, something like 200 of this number being from Winston. The visitors were very noisy about the first inning when the Twins got their first run. They subsided in the second when Greensboro tied the score.
After the sixth frame when Greensboro put another man across the rubber little was heard from the visitors.

Walters and Boyle were the opposing moundsmen and both pitched good ball.
Walters was effective with men on bases and though the Clancyites got men to third on two or three other occasions the tally in the first was the only man they were able to score. The Twins' run was made on a single to Browne, the first man to the bat in the game, a sacrifice by O'Halloran, and Shumaker's single.

In the second Doak got a free pass to first, was sacrificed to second by Clapp, and scored on Lowman's pretty drive to right field. Lowman made the second run in the sixth frame. In this inning Clapp was the first man up and was safe on Gates' error. Lowman bunted for a sacrifice that went between pitcher and third and both he and Clapp were safe.
Carroll hit a hard one to pitcher and was out, as was also Clapp playing off second. Clancy could have thrown to first and made a triple instead of a double, but he failed to do so and Lowman was still safe on first, with two men out.
Tiny Stuart landed on the sphere for two sacks, scoring Lowman, but was out himself at third.

The game was featured by the good pitching, the fast fielding of the two teams, and the hitting of Carroll, Stuart, Lowman, Daily and Shumaker.

Loss of Time Means Loss of Pay.
Kidney trouble and the ills it breeds means lost time and lost pay to many a working man. M. Balent, 1214 Little Penna St., Streator, Ill., was so bad from kidney and bladder trouble that he could not work, but he says: "I took Foley Kidney Pills for only a short time and got entirely well and was soon able to go back to work, and am feeling well and healthier than before." Foley Kidney Pills are tonic in action, quick in results—a good friend to the working man or woman who suffers from kidney ills. Howard Gardner.

DIAMOND DUST

Where They Play Tomorrow.
Charlotte at Greensboro.
Winston at Greenville.
Anderson at Spartanburg.

It was quiet in the middle of the grand stand after the sixth.

Whenever their team begins losing the Winston bunch always close their faces.

We've gotten rid of the only chap on the Patriot staff we had any doubts about.—Winston Sentinel.

Lowman, Carroll and Stuart continue to get hits and runs when they are needed.

Hope a great many of the Twin City fans will come back today—we like to hear them holler for awhile, then gently subside.

You hardly ever heard of a Greensboro pitcher that lost two games in a row—they always "come back" with a mighty strength.

Tomorrow that bunch from Charlotte under the management of one Agnew will come over for their medicine. Three straight is the dose prescribed for them.
They will probably swallow it without much kicking.

The Winston fans are the hardest losers in the world. When the team is winning they are so noisy and offensive as to be almost obnoxious, but as soon as the other team gets ahead they close up like so many clams.

That was a good gathering of Wins-tonites here yesterday. All of the visitors who rooted for the Twins surely did not all come from Winston, for if they did there was no one left at home to fight fire. And, my, the grandstand, shored off smell of tobacco.

Charlotte comes tomorrow for the remainder of the week. Games every day at 4:30 o'clock, except Saturday when it will be called at 4 p. m. The Patriots owe Charlotte a good licking and now is as good time as we will ever have to give it to them.

GREENVILLE GETS OUT

OF CELLAR POSITION.
Greenville, Aug. 23.—By taking yesterday's game from the Musicians Stouch's bunch drove Laval's Spartans into the cellar position and themselves nestled in fifth position. The game was featured by a home run by Smith with the bases full ahead of him.

Score:—
R. H. E.
Greenville.....005 020 00x—7 7 1
Spartanburg.....000 000 000—0 10 5
Batteries—Ridgeway and Kite, Ferrell and Westlake.

More people, men and women, are suffering from kidney and bladder trouble than ever before, and each year more of them turn for quick relief and permanent benefit to Foley's Kidney Remedy, which has proven itself to be one of the most effective remedies for kidney and bladder ailments that medical science has devised. Howard Gardner.

HEAT CAUSES ICE FAMINE IN ENGLAND

Special to Telegram.
London, Aug. 23.—The continued heat has resulted in an ice famine. All the stocks at the East Coast ports are exhausted and urgent demands from London and provincial centers find the merchants unable to meet them. Such a shortage had not been experienced for 40 years.

SMITHSONIAN'S DATA LOST.

Result of Alaska Expedition's Work at River Bottom.
Cordova, Alaska, Aug. 23.—All field notes and the cameras and exposed films of the Smithsonian Institution glacial expedition are somewhere on the bottom of the Big Delta river. The current of the river tipped up a wagon in which Professors R. F. Starr and Lawrence Madden were crossing the stream on the way to Fairbanks and spilled out the men and the photographic outfit. The men got ashore.

EXPLOSION IN HOME OF POWDER MERCHANT

Constantinople, Aug. 23.—A Jewish powder merchant named Yachia was celebrating his wedding in the village of Siman, in the Yemen, when a terrific explosion occurred in one of the rooms where powder was stored. The bride and bridegroom and 28 guests were blown up and perished, some of them being terribly mutilated.

ADMITS BREAKING SAFETY LAW.

Norfolk & Western Didn't Provide Air Brakes on Steep Grades.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The Norfolk & Western Railway has notified United States District Judge Keller, of West Virginia, that it is prepared to confess judgment in a case of 27 counts for violation of the safety appliance law, the Interstate Commerce Commission was today informed. It was alleged that the road violated the act by using hand brakes on mountain grades instead of air brakes.

"Well, have you thought of a sentence containing the word dynamite?" asked the teacher.

"Yes, my sister Rose wouldn't let you kiss her, but my sister Dinah might!"

IDEAL SHELTER FOR OUTING

Simple Arrangement That Does Away With Many Objectionable Features of Ordinary Tent.

When a tent is closed it is about as interesting as a London fog. When open it is invaded by all sorts of creeping things. A rain storm of a few days covers everything with blue mold. I have evolved the following relief: First, start with a floor the size of the tent you require.
Ten by twelve feet is a convenient size and shape. This should be raised six inches from the ground. Next, on this flooring, build a light framework with pointed roof. The sides should be six feet in height. Cover all this with wire netting, using a screen door for entrance. The roof, if so desired, may be covered with canvas or other material; green burlap is desirable for this purpose and also for the inside curtains, which should be hung from the top of the room on all sides and so arranged that they may easily roll up and down, simply tying them with tape.
I advise the green burlap because of its cool, restful tone, which alleviates the glare from the canvas. Over this screened room spread the usual canvas "fly" that roofs and protects the ordinary tent, letting it extend well beyond the ends and sides. It also might be well to have flaps at the front and back to close in case of severe storms. For invalids, for tuberculosis patients especially, I believe this to be superior to any of the other out-of-door arrangements now in use. It is inexpensive; the cost of the outfit will probably not exceed that of the ordinary canvas tent.
When not in use it can easily be taken apart and stored. The wire netting if carefully rolled and cared for will last for years.—Belle Gray Taylor.

RECIPE FOR ORANGE PUDDING

Delicious Concoction Well Worth the Little Trouble It Takes to Make It.

One and one-half cups of four, one and one-half teaspoons of baking powder, one cup of butter, three-fourths of a cup of sugar, four eggs, or three,
with a little milk, four oranges. Grate the rind of the oranges, being sure not to grate any of the white, and put it aside in a separate vessel. Cream the butter and sugar well, add eggs, the grated orange rind, the flour, and lastly the baking powder. Put in a mold and steam for two hours. A very nice mold, if you have not a regular one, is a small lard pail, which,
with this recipe leaves room for the pudding to swell, has a lid to put down good and tight on the pudding, and handle to lift it out with. Butter the inside of your pudding mold, do not look inside during the process of boiling, as that makes the pudding fall, and be sure that the water is kept to the level of the pudding. Add boiling, not cold or warm water.

Stuffed Prunes.
A most delightful addition to the usual buffet "spread" served at card parties is the stuffed prune. We have had dates stuffed with nuts for years, and also the Welshman prunes filled with smaller prunes, but what I have reference to here is the home-made variety. The time and your sticky hands will be well repaid by the toothsome nature of the delicacy. Soak a pound of the best quality large prunes you can procure in sherry and water for about 20 minutes, then stone them carefully. Try not to break up the prune any more than necessary.
Have a pound of dates also stoned and put a prepared date in the center of each prune and carefully press the opening together. Sprinkle again with sherry and roll in powdered sugar.
Keep in a closely covered tin box until you are ready to serve them.— Exchange.

Striped Sandwiches.
Cut a number of slices of both white and brown bread. Slices must be quite thin, nearly one-half inch. Butter liberally and stack together five slices, first a brown, then a white, a brown,
a white and a brown, pressing together firmly so they will hold. Slice down through this stack, making the slices the thickness wished for the sandwiches. The result is an exceedingly eatable and pretty striped sandwich, which can be trimmed into any shape desired.

Black Butter Sauce.

This receipt requires two tablespoonfuls of butter, one teaspoonful of vinegar and one teaspoonful of chopped parsley. Fry the butter in a steep pan until it is light brown.
Take off the fire and stir in the vinegar and chopped parsley.

Junket and Egg.

Add two eggs beaten to a froth and sweeten with four teaspoons of sugar to a pint of milk. Curdle with essence of pepin or junket tablets. Pour into cups.

Pineapple Pie.

One can pineapple chopped, one cup milk, two-thirds cup sugar, three tablespoonfuls flour, two crusts.

We'll Try Always to Have the Things You Like— And Always to Have New Things Good Enough For You to Learn to Like.

"Likable" food is the rule here. Even people who are "fussy" about their foods usually grow good natured in a good restaurant. This restaurant is doing its part all the time to foster that cheer and optimism in people which must always result from eating good food—perfectly cooked, invitingly served.
Something you like is always on the bill of fare—and its sure to be prepared AS YOU LIKE IT. And many things which you WOULD LIKE, even on first acquaintance, may always be found here.

succeeded, but the learning he imparted to these men is destined to live long after the little "schoolmaster" of the diamond has grown old and outlived his usefulness. When the name of McGraw has ceased to be a baseball by-word players will still go out and become famous as managers for the simple reason that they are exponents of the Mc-Graw school.

Among the present managers that have been graduated from the institution of this little master are Roger Bres-nahan of St. Louis, Bill Dahlen of Brooklyn, Fred Tenney of Boston, Frank Bowerman, formerly of Boston; Joe McGin-nity of Newark, Billy Gilbert of Erie, Bill Clarke of the American Association, and Charley Babb, formerly of Memphis.
The chances are that Mike Donlin will also become a manager and will lead the Boston Rustlers next season. No other manager in the history of the game has developed as many leaders as McGraw, and he can be truthfully called the "maker of managers."

The first thing that McGraw teaches his players is that there is no such thing as luck. He is also strongly prejudiced against superstition that he will frequently allow an outsider to sit on the bench during an important game just to show that he has no fear of the supernatural. A majority of players would as soon think of cutting off a leg as to allow a stranger to sit on the bench.

Another thing that McGraw does at the outset is to disabuse his players' minds of the idea that printed records do not amount to anything. He firmly declares that "figures never lie" and that the man with the best record is the best player 99 times out of 100. When these two things are firmly implanted in a player's mind he realizes that he must step out and deliver the goods to be retained.

Another important feature of Mc-Graw's school is that he puts no restrictions on the personal conduct of the players. He tells them at the outset that they are taken on their own responsibility, and that unless they realize that responsibility and take care of themselves they will be the means of their own undoing.

"What's the use of telling a player what time he should go to bed or what he should drink," explains McGraw. "If I've got to force a man to take care of himself, then he will be no good, anyway. I want players who realize the necessity of taking care of themselves and who act accordingly. If they abuse themselves and fail to make good on the diamond it is their own fault. Once they realize this they are pretty apt to regulate their habits accordingly.

The McGraw school of baseball also teaches that the manager must be absolute in his leadership. He must never consult with the players. He should assume the entire responsibility and if mistakes are made take the blame accordingly. Never in his life did McGraw blame a player for making an error even if it lost a game, but let one of them commit an error of judgment even if it won the game and the whole team will know for weeks to come.

When Bresnahan took charge of the Cardinals he was talking to McGraw one day and, incidentally, asking for a little advice.

"The main thing you've got to do Roger," said McGraw, "is to get rid of the 'bone' on your team. No matter how much you know about baseball you cannot make another man think. A bright young fellow who can think is worth more to you than a fairly good veteran who never did use his mind except when told to. Don't try to make men think.
For it is useless. They are born that way

If "Bargain Hunting" Is Extravagance, Isn't It Strange That Bargain Hunters Can Always Afford It!

And haven't you noticed that, even if the family income is not at all great, the bargain hunting woman always seems to have the money with which to indulge her "extravagance?"

This fact should teach her critics something—perhaps teach them that the fixed habit of intelligent buying, based upon a persistent study of the ads, is a form of "extravagance" that should prevail in every home in the land!

26th of August.

The object of the meeting will be to perfect arrangements for pooling the present crop of tobacco.

The Chamber of Commerce of the City of Greensboro has secured the opera house free of cost for the meeting and reduced rates at the hotels and boarding houses. Rooms can be rented at 50c a day and a, and there are a number of excellent restaurants in Greensboro, where meals can be secured as desired.

The national President, Mr. Chas. S. Barrett, will be one of the principal speakers for that occasion. Hon. Joel B. Fort, of Tennessee, will be another of the speakers. He is a wonderful orator, and was the man of Tennessee, who caused the farmers to succeed in pooling tobacco.

We confidently expect the greatest meeting of the tobacco growers of Virginia and North Carolina ever held in either state. Let every county union and local union appoint delegates to this convention.

Every farmer is cordially invited to be present and every member of the Farmers' Union will be given full privilege of the meeting.

Wake Commissioners Win Victory.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, Aug. 23.—Judge Peebles has denied the petition of counsel for Dr. J. L. McCullers for a mandamus compelling the Wake county commissioners to pay the claim he has for fees in July for service as county superintendent of health. This is a victory for the commissioners in the fight they are making against recognizing a county superintendent of health appointed arbitrarily by Dr. W. S. Rankin as secretary of the State Board of Health after the county commissioners and county board of education had failed to agree on Dr. McCullers and on a proposed $2,500 salary. Further developments are awaited with interest.

victs in public road construction, State aid to counties, use of wide tires, etc., etc.

The Governors of the seven States interested in the convention have been asked to make addresses, and will be invited to attend the convention as guests of the city of Roanoke. All of them will probably not be present, but all the Governors of these States are strong good roads advocates and are ready in every way possible to further the good roads cause throughout the Southern Appalachian region. Of the Congressmen whom we expect, Senator Simmons of North Carolina has recently introduced a bill into the Senate favoring the appropriation of $1,000,000 a year for Federal aid to States in road construction, and Senator Swanson of Virginia has introduced a similar bill.

Among the speakers who will make special addresses are:

Governor William Hodges Mann of Virginia.

Governor Augustus E. Willson of Kentucky.

Governor Ben W. Hooper, of Tennessee.

Governor Cole L. Blease of South Carolina.

Hon. Logan Waller Page, Director U. S. Office of Public Roads, Washington, D. C.

Hon. P. St. J. Wilson, State Highway Commissioner of Virginia.

Hon. E. J. Watson, Commissioner of Agriculture of South Carolina.

Hon. F. H. Hyatt, President, South Carolina Good Roads Association.

Hon. H. B. Varner, President, North Carolina Good Roads Association.

Hon. Joseph F. Bosworth, President, Kentucky Good Roads Association.

Hon. Cyrus Kehr, President, Knox County Good Roads and Park Association.

Hon. T. J. Hale, President, East Tennessee Good Roads Association.

Hon. F. M. Simmons, Senator from North Carolina.

Hon. Claude A. Swanson, Senator from Virginia.

Mr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, State Geologist of North Carolina.

Mr. S. W. McCallie, State Geologist of Georgia.

Dr. Thomas L. Watson, State Geologist of Virginia.

Hon. L. E. Johnson, President, Norfolk and Western Railway.

Gen. E. W. Nichols, Superintendent of the Virginia Military Institute.

Dr. D. H. Hill, President, North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts.

Mr. Y. P. Branch, Professor of Civil Engineering, Georgia School of Technology.

Prof. Hale Houston, of the Civil Engineering Department of Clemson Agricultural College.

Prof. C. M. Strahan, Dean of the Engineering School of the University of Georgia.

Prof. M. H. Stacy, of the Engineering Department of the University of North Carolina.

In addition to the above, there will be a number of representatives of county and local good roads associations, each of whom will bring his message of concrete import. There will also be representatives from the various interstate highways now being built, who, in short talks, will tell of the progress of the work on the highway he represents.

THE ASTOR-FORCE MARRIAGE DENOUNCED BY PENNYJACKER

Philadelphia, Aug. 23.—Former Governor Pennypacker, of Pennsylvania, head of the National Divorce Laws Association, today denounced the proposed marriage of John Jacob Astor to Miss Madeline Force as a moral menace and charged that Colonel Astor's first wife secured a divorce because her husband "kept a harem."

STARR CASE TO JURY

LATE THIS AFTERNOON

In Guilford Superior Court today the argument to the jury in the case of H. F. Starr vs. Southern Bell Telephone Company was heard, Judge Lyon beginning his charge shortly before four o'clock. The taking of testimony was concluded last night just before adjournment for the day was taken. Judge Strudwick, G. S. Ferguson and J. N. Wilson spoke this morning. Judge Bynum concludes for the plaintiff this afternoon. The case will go to the jury shortly after 4 o'clock.

PROF. BANDY PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING

Prof. James M. Bandy died this morning at 10:30 o'clock at his home on Tate street at the age of 63 years. Prof. Bandy had been ill for more than a year, and seriously so for the past month, and his death was not unexpected.

The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from West Market Street M. E. church, of which the deceased had for years been a faithful and consistent member, the services to be conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. K. McLarty, assisted by Rev. R. Murphy Williams and Prof. V. H. Pegram, of Trinity College. The interment will follow in Green Hill cemetery.

The pall-bearers will be as follows: J. P. Turner, J. S. Betts, J. E. Mann, T. C. Hoyle, W. P. Bynum, Geo. S. Bradshaw.

Prof. Bandy was born in Catawba county and had lived in Greensboro for about fourteen years. For several years he was city engineer, filling this position with great credit. His first wife, formerly Miss Martha Leonard, of Lincoln county, died six years ago. Prof. Bandy was later married to Miss Sallie Joyner, of Laurinburg.

The deceased is survived by his second wife and the following children by his first wife: Mrs. Lula B. Carr, Mrs. Charles R. Lewis, Carl, Will and Edgar Bandy, of Greensboro; Mrs. B. B. Adams and Claude Bandy, of Four Oaks; Mrs. J. N. Halifax, of Spartanburg, and Walter Bandy, of Florida.

Before coming to Greensboro Prof. Bandy was professor of Mathematics at Trinity College for nine years, giving this position up on account of his health. During his residence in Greensboro Prof. Bandy made many friends who will learn with regret of his death.

FINE FISHING WITH GUNS.

Pitchforks and Garden Rakes Also Capture the Big Fellows.

Rehoboth, Del., Aug. 23.—Hooks and lines and nets have been discarded for catching fish along the Rehoboth beach since the discovery several days ago of hundreds of monster drum fish, running in schools close to the shore. Guns, pitchforks and even garden rakes are being used and large numbers of the big fish are being captured by these means. The big fish are plainly seen from the beach, many of them coming in within a few feet of the shore, from which gunners can shoot the big fellows and then wade out and get them.

At Indian River inlet a large school of the fish entered a small pool and, before they could get away, waded in with pitchforks had waded in and speared 11 of them weighing from 35 to 15 pounds each. Off the life saving station, Walter Elliott saw a big one in evident distress and jumping into the water he managed to seize it by the tail and turn it toward the shore, finally landing the big fish on the beach. A cottager saw one of the fish close to the shore and running down the beach with a garden rake, he succeeded in stunning it until he could drag it ashore.

CABOOSE ROLLS DOWN MOUNTAIN.

Occupants Tossed About Like Rubber Balls, But Not Hurt.

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 23.—Passing over a broken rail on the Cresson & Clearfield Railroad, at Wildwood Springs, a caboose became detached from the locomotive and rolled down the mountain until it brought up against a tree. Conductor J. B. Gates, Flagman W. E. Rafferty and brakeman A. Effinger of Altoona, were tossed about like rubber balls, but not seriously hurt.

Bridges Time and Space

IT WAS A QUESTION of life or death and the victim's life hung by a slender thread. A difficult operation was necessary. To be successful the operation must be performed at once. The services of a specialist were required, but he was in a distant city.

The specialist was reached over the Long Distance Bell Telephone, the case described and the operation arranged for.

The sufferer's life was saved through the ability of the Universal Bell Telephone Service to bridge time and space.

TO OPEN MONGOLIA AND TIBET.

China Attempts to Save Territory from Foreign Domination.

Peking, Aug. 23.—The transfer of Prince Su, chief of the Naval Department to the Board of Dependencies, is taken to mean that China will attempt to develop Mongolia and Tibet as well as Manchuria and convert them into provinces with the object of saving them from ultimate foreign domination.

The Prince visited Mongolia, in 1906 and made an investigation of its industrial and commercial conditions.

China is planning to allow the office of Dalai Lama, of Tibet, to lapse by not authorizing the reincarnation of a successor, and so to control Tibet without a religious intermediary, but the rapid and effective fulfillment of this program is not to be expected.

Reports predict an outbreak at Canton, which will be the beginning of extensive revolutionary incidents in the South. An imperial edict commands the Viceroy of Canton to ferret out the last plotter with the greatest secrecy.
